

Electronic News Update from the Michigan Council for History Education May 1, 2010, Vol. V11, No. 9

*****

Dear Colleagues,

Thirty different fascinating items on seven pages. Hope you find items of interest. Feel free to share. And, with no items on either the activities of the Detroit Historical Society or the War of 1812 Bicentennial, I guess you will just have to visit www.detroithistorical.org and www.michigan.gov/war1812 to learn more about their plans and activities and resources.

MSSSA: Due to new filters at Genesee ISD, the April MCHE E-Notes did not get through to MSSSA members, it now is posted at www.michiganhistoryed.org for those who wish to check it out for info they might wish to copy and use. My thanks to Roy Sovis for his distribution of the May E-Notes.

And, my support to those of you facing retirement decisions as the Governor and the legislature struggle with this issue.

Enjoy May! Dr. Jim McConnell, Editor, MCHE E Notes (jam1776@sbcglobal.net)

NOTE: The pdf attachment contains the same content as the message below. It is sent for those of you whose machines mess up the text of the E Notes. I hope this is helpful.

Table of Contents NOT INCLUDED:

Is this of value to you? I have gotten suggestions both that it is and that it is not. It does take nearly a full page for the average of 30 items in each issue of MCHE E-Notes. Please let me know if the usual "Table of Contents" listing of the "Headlines" is beneficial for you.

thanks, Jim

(Hopefully, a helpful guide to the diversity of topics that follow.)

6. Upcoming PBS Programs

(A) Birth of Freedom Sunday, 5/2 3 p.m. ET. The American founders said that all men are created equal and are endowed with certain unalienable rights-that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. They called this a self-evident truth. Why would any nation consider this a self-evident truth? For the millions around the world who have never tasted liberty, the question cries for an answer.

(B) American Experience: Roads to Memphis Monday, 5/3 from 9-10:30 p.m. ET. From Emmy Award-winning director Stephen Ives, this film tells the wildly disparate yet fatefully entwined stories of an assassin, James Earl Ray, and his target, Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., against the backdrop of the seething and turbulent forces in American society that led these two men to their violent and tragic collision in Memphis, Tennessee, on April 4, 1968.

10. Howell Library offers Interesting Public programs

Tues., May 18, 7 p.m., "Michigan's Columbus: The Life of Douglass Houghton" Steve Lehto, author of Michigan's Columbus, a Michigan Notable Book for 2010, tells the story of Douglass Houghton. The name Houghton is well-known to Michiganians. It graces a city, a county, a lake, waterfalls, schools, and more. But what made Douglass Houghton such a star? As the fledgling state's first geologist, he found more minerals than any explorer before him, from salt springs to gypsum. He also found time to be elected mayor of Detroit and teach at the University of Michigan, all before the age of thirty-six.

Thurs., May 20, 7 p.m; "A Peek Inside the Michigan Historical Museum," Celebrate Michigan Week with exhibit designer, Susan Cooper, as she takes us on a virtual tour of the Michigan Historical Museum in Lansing, Michigan.

The Howell Carnegie District Library is located at 314 W. Grand River Ave. in downtown Howell.

12. Resources from Colonial Williamsburg: Teaching Strategy: Saving History

The Declaration of Independence is an important part of our country's history. However, each of us has personal documents that we want to preserve. What documents, pictures and other paper objects do you have in your home that should be preserved for the future? In this lesson, students will examine an environment that is not good for preserving paper artifacts. They will identify potential "agents of destruction" and determine strategies that will better conserve paper artifacts. Learn more at www.history.org/History/teaching/enewsletter/volume8/apr10/teachstrategy.cfm

14. Great Debates - Constitutional Convention

Have you heard about a ballot proposal to hold a Constitutional Convention in 2011? Do you know what a Constitutional Convention is? Have you wondered why this would be beneficial or harmful? Well, as part of ArtServe's sponsorship of the 2010 Great Debates, we are happy to provide you with the video at the link below that dives into the pros and cons of a constitutional convention in Michigan. The video is a bit lengthy, but features former Grand Rapids Mayor John Logie and Michigan Chamber VP Bob Labrant discussing the prospect of a constitutional convention. Visit www.thecenterformichigan.net/blog/the-great-debates/ (Thanks to From: Mike Latvis <mike@artservemichigan.org>, ArtServe Michigan, for this info.)

25. News from the Center for Michigan (www.thecenterformichigan.net/blog)

Great Debates 2010 announces first two debates By John Bebow - April 8, 2010

Great Debates 2010 — the statewide network of dozens of political debates — has its first two events in the calendar. Our first gubernatorial debate, featuring candidates in the Republican primary, will be taped on Monday, May 24 at WGVU in Grand Rapids and will air that evening. The video will be available for on-demand viewing on the Center for Michigan's web site, MiVote.org and the web sites of some of the 20 statewide business, education, labor, and nonprofit organizations who are sponsoring the Great Debates. We are negotiating with Democratic gubernatorial candidates for a primary debate in mid-July. Debates in several dozen of the most competitive House and Senate races will commence after the August Primary. Our very first taping will feature former Grand Rapids Mayor John Logie and Michigan Chamber Senior Vice President Robert Labrant debating the pros and cons of holding a state constitutional convention. That question will be on the November ballot. The taping is set for Wednesday, April 14. The broadcast will premier in this Center for Michigan e-newsletter on Thursday, April 22.

27. Pink Hearts, Not Pink Slips

By the end of this school year, it is estimated that as many as 300,000 teachers, school support staff and higher education faculty will receive pink slips across the country.

Educators need Pink Hearts, Not Pink Slips. Starting on May 4, National Teacher Day, we are encouraging everyone to wear pink hearts to acknowledge the important contributions of educators. Educators put their heart and soul into their work, and every day they make a real difference in the lives of children. Budgets may be tightening, but students need educators in the classroom, not in unemployment lines. Our government didn't walk away from Wall Street. We should demand no less from them when it comes to saving our children's future. Voice your support for federal legislation that will provide $23 billion to help school districts avoid layoffs and cuts in vital services for children at www.unionvoice.org/ct/KdLQ2Yp1eQ2y/ Visit <http://www.unionvoice.org/ct/K7LQ2Yp1eQ2h/> to take action that will help preserve the education lifeline our students deserve.

29. Upper Peninsula History Award Nominations due MAY 15th.

Do you know an individual or historical organization that has done marvelous things to preserve and promote the history of Michigan 's Upper Peninsula ? That has given their all to successfully preserve a historic home, industrial complex, streetscape or archeological site? A person or organization that has interviewed and recorded the memories of older citizens before their passing or tirelessly researched and documented the history of your community? Someone who has volunteered their time for years at the local historical society or archives? For individuals, please consider nominating that person for the Charles Follo Award. Named in honor of Charles Follo, a school teacher from Escanaba who worked to establish historical societies and promote the history of the Upper Peninsula, the Charles Follo Award is presented annually by the Historical Society of Michigan to the individual who has made the most outstanding contribution to the preservation and promotion of Upper Peninsula history. For historical organizations, please consider nominating them for the Superior Award, established by the Historical Society of Michigan in 2006. The Superior Award recognizes historical societies, museums, and other historical organizations that have preserved and advanced Upper Peninsula history. The 2010 Upper Peninsula History Awards will be presented at the 61st Annual Upper Peninsula History Conference in Menominee during the annual awards banquet. Nominations are due on May 15, 2010. For more information visit www.hsmichigan.org or call toll-free (800) 692-1828.
